Section I. General Provisions

- A. Combining Overdraft Services. You agree that you will only receive the Services marked on the first page of this Agreement. If the balance in your checking account is insufficient to pay items drawn against the account, then the Services you have chosen will be activated as listed on Page 1: Deposit to Deposit Overdraft Protection Transfer or Home Equity Line of Credit or Line of Credit Overdraft Protection Transfer. If you have any of these services Deposit to Deposit Overdraft Protection Transfer is utilized first, then your HELOC or Line(s) of Credit Overdraft Protection Transfer is utilized second. For each selected Service, coverage is based on the order of accounts as indicated on page 1.
- B. Notice to You. Any notice to you from Bank will be deemed properly given if mailed to the address reflected on Bank's records. A notice mailed to any party on a joint account will constitute notice to all parties.
- C. Applicable Law. The laws of the United States and the State of Tennessee will govern this Agreement and all transactions made in connection with it.
- D. Your Right to Terminate. You may terminate any or all the Services at any time by notifying Bank in writing. Notice from either party to a joint account will be considered as notice from both parties.
- E. Amendments to the Agreement. The terms and conditions in this Agreement may be amended by Bank at any time upon such notice, if any, as may be required by applicable law.
- F. Governing documents. Your checking account at Bank is governed by the Bank Depositor Agreement as most recently amended and your HELOC at Bank is governed by the Home Equity Line of Credit Agreement as most recently amended. This Agreement additionally describes the conditions under which you authorize transfers from your HELOC account to your checking account for the specific purpose of checking account overdraft protection. It does not supersede or modify the provisions of the Bank Depositor Agreement or Home Equity Line of Credit Agreement.
- G. Minimum Transfer Amount. There is no minimum transfer amount.
- H. Entire Agreement. This Agreement and all Sections herein constitute the entire agreement of the parties. Any finding of invalidity to any portion of this Agreement will not render other portions invalid.

Section II. Transfer Provisions

	Deposit to Deposit Overdraft Protection Transfer Service	Line of Credit/HELOC
Description	When the balance in your Checking Account is insufficient to pay debits and any fees, the Bank will honor those items by transferring funds, up to the available balance in your linked Checking, Savings or Money Market Accounts, to your Checking Account.	A HELOC/Line of Credit can be attached to your checking account to cover overdrafts. This service requires you to complete an application. The amount is based on your credit worthiness. Subject to approval, including credit approval. Bank is authorized to make deposits to your checking account, funded by an advance from your HELOC/Line of Credit account. The advance will equal the amount by which the checking account balance is overdrawn at the end of the day.
Fees	N/A	Transfers made under this Agreement will be reflected on your HELOC or Line of Credit statement as an advance and finance charges will apply.
Benefits	Funds automatically transfer from a linked account to primary checking (up to the available balance in your linked accounts) to cover an overdraft.	Coverage for overdrafts up to your credit limit. Ability to pay back over time.
Repayment of Funds	N/A	Repayment of funds as required by the HELOC/Line of Credit agreement.
If transactions exceed available balance	Bank is under no obligation to honor any debit items exceeding the available balance in linked accounts. Overdraft charges may be imposed, based on the applicable current fee schedule for deposits accounts. Bank may dishonor any debit items drawn against your account where there is an insufficient amount of funds.
